1. Changes to Jobs/workshops Advertising within PAGES ECN

The PAGES ECN steering committee has restructured our jobs, funding, and workshops advertisement protocols. From now on, job advertisements sent to the network will be forwarded to the listserv as they come. Additionally, a general resource document has been created if you need help finding websites or listservs that advertise positions, funding opportunities, and workshops. The link to this document will always be available at the bottom of future PAGES ECN newsletters: Jobs, Funding, and Listserv guide. As a related note, have a look at the new platform ecrcentral for navigating through funding and resources for early career researchers.

2. The Early Pages Blog Update

Last month on The Early Pages

On hurricanes and fires: What impact do catastrophic events have on nature and tourism on the British Virgin Islands and how long does it take for ecosystems to recover? Josh Mueller provides insight into these questions and the history of human-induced and natural wildfire since the colonization of the British Virgin Islands.

Stay tuned for our upcoming posts about career gaps, about field working in Tajikistan, and how ultraviolet light plays an important role in aquatic ecosystems.

3. PAGES SSC and EXCOM Meeting from 23-31 March 2019 in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

PAGES SSC and EXCOM Meeting will be held in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia from 23-31 March 2019. PAGES looks forward to welcoming ECN Steering Committee member Stella Alexandroff. It is the first time an ECN member has joined the SSC Meeting since the network's launch in 2018. Each year a different representative will attend:

6. How to Get Involved with GLOBE

At the AGU Fall Meeting 2018, the PAGES ECN connected with GLOBE and determined that opportunities within GLOBE may be of interest to our members. STEM professionals within GLOBE connect with students around the world to conduct science. If you are interested in becoming a part of the GLOBE International Stem Network (GISN), you can learn more here.
